Insider Information Delivered When You Need It

August is the last full month of summer. The days are going to start cooling down, the kids will be back to learning, and the summer nights will be a fond memory. Now that it's time to start packing up the summer and moving into fall, this means bringing a lot of things from outside to inside, and finding places to store all of your warm-weather toys and furniture.

Here are some great space-saving storage dos and do nots for your manufactured home!

7 Reasons Not to Store Things
Under Your Manufactured Home

14 Ways to Make a Small Space Feel Bigger

1. Paint the ceiling to make the room look taller.
2. Use light colors on the walls and floor.
3. Pull furniture away from the wall.
4. Make use of hidden storage.
5. Hang shelves close to the ceiling.
6. Use stripes to elongate the space.
7. Leave your windows uncovered.
8. Buy glass items, like desks and tables.
9. Don't use overhead lights.
10. Use multiple rugs in one room.
11. Use different shades of the same color.
12. Use furniture with exposed legs.
13. Strategically place mirrors.
14. Use dramatic art pieces to expand the room.
